Here's another thing: Liz's text included the phrase "Emergency Operations Systems". I checked with Rox -- shouldn't that be EO Center, not EO Systems? She said yes. Tim just posts, he doesn't think, and he posted it with "Systems". So I had to fix that too. Whoever posts has to THINK critically about what they are being asked to do.

Thanks.

George is reviewing the site.

"what do the data show" is content George is trying to develop.

BANH! wrong. We are not positioned to go live because if anyone would actually LOOK at the site, they will see that there is an unlinked bullet on the home page that must be removed or otherwise addressed before the site can go live.

Danny, no one is actually LOOKING or THINKING.

Last night Liz asked for that paragraph to go on the home page. Tim just stuck it up without LOOKING at it or THINKING. If he had, he would have seen that one sentence was exactly the same as a sentence already on the page. So it was on there twice until I saw it and pulled it off.

LOOK and THINK. Don't just POST.

Hey everyone,

We're positioned to go live once we get the 'go'

To see the most up to date site:

it will ask you to log in, then jump to the page

Christine,

This really looks good. One comment, which I'll pursue with Jeff tomorrow, is that I think that we

Hi everyone, I've created a draft site for the Gold King Mine. To view it,

- log into the Web Content Management System at <https://wcms.epa.gov/user> with your LAN ID and password.
  - o If you can't log in, send an email to Web CMS Support with your LAN ID; they usually take care of the odd log-in problem within a few minutes.
- Then go to <https://wcms.epa.gov/goldkingmine>

The URL for this site when published will be www.epa.gov/goldkingmine. There should be no reason to type in "www2" as part of the URL; "www" should be sufficient.

Jeff Morin in our office will be taking over for me tomorrow morning to code changes. Jeff can publish it once it's ready, and can ask Web CMS Support to redirect the existing Region 8 page to the new site. Staff in Regions 6, 8 and 9 have access to edit and publish changes to the site.

Notes on various pages:

- Home page –

Deliberative Process/Ex. 5

Let me know if you have questions. I'll be available tomorrow at 202-306-7367.
